Poetical.

THE SAVIOUR'S PRAISE.

O may I pant for Thee in each desire!
And with strong faith foment thy holy fire!
Stretch out my soul in hope, and grasp the prize
Which in eternity's deep bosom lies!
At the great day of recompense behold,
Devoid of fear, the fatal book unfold!
Then wafted upward to the blissful seat,
From age to age my grateful song repeat;
My Light—my Life—my God—my Saviour,—see,
And rival angels in the praise of Thee.

JEAN PAUL'S TITAN.

Ticknor & Fields have just published "Titan, a Romance from the German of Jean Paul Friedrichter, translated by Charles T. Brooks," in two thick octo-duodecimo volumes. Mr Brooks is widely known as one of the most accomplished of the many translators who have, during the last twenty or thirty years, attempted to give English and American readers some idea of the wealth, beauty and power of the German mind. His metrical version of "Faust" has heretofore been his chief claim to rank among that rare class of translators who bring genius as well as scholarship to the work of interpreting the most difficult passages of the authors they aim to reproduce in another tongue.

Jean Paul's "Titan," presented, in many respects, a more difficult task than even Goethe who is thoroughly homogeneous even in the wild combinations of dissimilar elements organized in "Faust;" Jean Paul, in "Titan," is heterogeneous, in spite of his intense effort to combine all the savage, primitive and supernatural elements of his wonderful work into vital relations with its practical incidents and purpose. Though the genius is less than Goethe's, the obstacles to be overcome by the translator are greater. There is essential simplicity and unity at the heart of Goethe's variety and complexity, but Jean Paul's real unity is to be found in a penetrating insight into the confused phenomena of his character, and not in the least artistically imperfect of the works in which his character stammered into rude and gigantic expression.

It is on this account that we consider the present translation of "Titan" to be superior to any English translation of a work of German genius with which we are acquainted. A hundred years ago Wieland's novel "Agathon," was "done into English" by an anonymous writer, with great skill, preserving, as the translation did, much of the beautiful and cutting irony of the original. Carlyle's translation of Goethe's "Wilhelm Meister" was a more effective transfusion into English of the great romance of the Shakspeare of Germany. Carlyle would, we think, admit that Brooks's "Titan" was, in genius, scholarship, research and thorough truthfulness to the most intimate thoughts, emotions and caprices of Jean Paul, the greatest translation from the German into English ever achieved.

Jean Paul devoted ten years to "Titan"; Mr Brooks must have devoted half that time to his noble translation. Indeed, he justly claims for his work that it is not a mere translation from one language into another but a transplantation from one soil into another. The masterpiece of Jean Paul,—the so loved by a population of forty millions,—is really domesticated in our New England homes by Mr. Brook's faithful version. The book may not sell, at first, like a "sensation" novel, but that it will be, for years, one of the standard works which will be considered necessary to complete every public and every private collection of good books, we have not the slightest doubt.

Without any knowledge of German literature, derived from a critical and exhaustive study of the German language, the ordinary English reader will, in this translation, be able to commune with one of the noblest and most tender souls that ever left records of its inspirations, aspirations and achievements in literature. For all the joys, and all the pure mental and moral ecstasies, derived from the spiritual communion with a mind and heart so pure, passionate and exalted as the mind and heart of Jean Paul, they will be indebted to the patient toil and interpretative insight of Charles T. Brooks. For the successful transplanting into our comparatively barren New England soil of such a rich product of the German mind, there can be no praise too enthusiastic.

The man of genius who abandons and abdicates his right to original creation from a simple feeling that he can do more good to the world by translating into English speech a genius more searching, various, original and daring than his own, is worthy of the warmest eulogium. Few original American romances imply more labor skill and genius than have been expended on this masterly translation.

Carlyle, in his review of Jean Paul, after referring to the title by which the Germans express his rare individuality, of Jean Paul, the Only, remarks that in "the whole circle of literature we look in vain for his parallel. Unite the sportfulness of Rabalais, and the best sensibility of Sterne, with the earnestness, and even in slight portions, the sublimity of Milton, and let the mosaic brain of old Burton give forth the workings of this strange union with the pen of Jeremy Bentham," and some notion can be formed of Jean Paul. In Titan, as we have already said, the wild, wide-wandering genius, with its affluent observation, wit, humor, sentiment, pathos, passion, intelligence, characterization, is most perfectly embodied. That the book will meet with a generous recognition from all cultivated readers in England and America, it would be the height of incredulity to doubt.

FUEL-SAVING SOCIETY."

This is the name an association in Philadelphia, formed for the purpose of devising some plan to diminish the increasing demand on public beneficience, and also to afford encouragement to habits of industry, by distribution of coal to those who deposit a small portion of their weekly income during the warm season. The press says:

"No person is allowed to deposit more than fifty cents at any time, nor more than two dollars in any month, nor more than the price of three tons of coal in any one season. A family who makes these deposits obtains coal at the rate of $8 per ton. The coal is delivered only from the 1st of December until the 1st of March, the balance of the year being the period for those who wish to reap the benefits of the society to make their deposits None of the officers connected with the institution receive one cent of pay neither are they allowed to be interested in the coal business in any manner whatever.—during the present year over 600 families have made deposits with the association; and the expense of furnishing them with coal, owing to the high price of the articles, will be over $3500 —which will be the largest sum ever yet expended by the society."

CROAKERS.

There is a large class of animals of the genus homo by courtesy, but in reality of the type of the bull-frog, whom we denominate croakers. They are born in all times and under all circumstances; They are a prolific race even in times of peace profound, but amid the convulsions of the social or political system they swarm, as did the frogs in Egypt when Pharaoh insisted upon upholding the peculiar institution of slavery, and would not let the children of Israel go. Now these croakers never reflect that they are bipeds and have two legs—that they have two arms, two hands, two feet, two eyes and two ears, and but one tongue; so that they are to see, and hear, and act, twice as much as they talk. Yet these croakers talk twice and act once—and never think at all. They croak at the weather. If it is hot, they croak because it is n't cold: if cold, because it is n't hot. They croak at their wives if they prepare them a clean shirt, and vow that it is a conspiracy to get rid of their amiable lords by the "taking off" of a bad cold—if no shirt is ready, they croak of the laziness and inertness of their wives. They croak at the Parson if he comes to visit their happy homes, and say they wish he would n't be always running in and putting the house all in a panic, and if he do n't come they croak and say he is too proud.—They croak at the newspapers,—ah, this is a perennial source of food for croakdom: when all else fails this is ever at hand—they croak, we say, at the newspapers if they have any political articles, because they are not of the croaker's party—if they have any accidents, because it shocks croaker's nerves—if no accidents or horrid murders that the papers are stale—if the papers have any war news, croaker swears it's a lie and he can't trust it—if they don't have any war news croaker says they lack enterprise. They croak because the papers have no bulletins—if bulletins are there, croaker reads it saves his two pennies, and swears it's a d—"deuced" lie. They croak at the Government and say if they army don't move the Government is ruining the country by dallying—if the army moves and don't get to Richmond or is repulsed, croaker says it's all the fault of Abe Lincoln, Halleck and Stanton—and when an investigating committee sift the matter through, and Burnside ungnanimously "takes the responsibility," the whole affair turns out to be "lack of Pontoons," "nobody to blame," and croaker is written down an Ass, and in the poor spelling of the old lady when she wrote of her son—"he's a poor lame boy, Ass he is, and Ass he always will be." So you are Mr. Croaker. The rest of our advice to to the whole genus croaker we give in a few lines of machine ryme. We have got a new one, and not having used it before, we worked out these lines by way of experiment:

Take a hoe and go to hoeing,
Take a scythe and go to mowing,
Take a pen and go to writing,
Take a gun and go to fighting,
Take anything and go to work
Do anything but don't you croak.
And then you'll see a better day,
Instead of croaking if you'll pray.

Belger's R. I. Battery (F.) formed part of Gen. Foster's forces in the recent successful operations in North Carolina. It was brought into action at different times, and lost ten horses killed and wounded. After the battle of Goldsboro bridge, the rebels suddenly renewed the attack upon a detached portion of our forces, who were being withdrawn for the night. They were allowed to get rather near to Morrison's N. Y. Battery, when the guns opened on them with canister, and Belger's Battery put in a heavy cross fire. The rebels were repulsed with great loss. Capt. Belger's command took the place of the New York battery, when the latter had expended all its ammunition.

Killed—James L. Gayet; Wm. Nesbit.

Wounded—Corporal George C. Manchester, leg; John Butterworth, left hand gone; First Sergeant Alexander M. Massie, right hand; Calvin C. Barr, leg; Sergeant Isaac N. Gage, side

The Fifth Rhode Island Regiment, Capt. Job Arnold, commanding, also accompanied Gen. Foster, being with Belger's Battery attached to Col. Thos. G. Stevenson's Second Brigade, First Division of the army of North Carolina. The Fifth suffered the following losses:

Killed—Thomas Shippey, Co. G.

Wounded—Corporal Benjamin F. Down, Co. C, shoulder; Cornelius Sullivan, Co. F, cheek; Perter McCabe, Co. G, hand.

The New York papers say there is no apparent falling off in the rush at the post-office in that city for the redemption of stamps. Good chances in the long line command a fair premium. About $80,000 worth of stamps were received last week of which nearly one-eighth were examined and redeemed.

The great sale of 30,000 tons of Scranton coal, which was advertised to take place in New York on Tuesday was indefinitely postponed, in consequence of a strike among the miners, "not for wages but for the management of the work."—The strike was not unexpected although the colliers have had their wages raised once already.

No. 2 Mill belonging to Edward Harris, at Woonsocket, R. I., was considerably damaged by fire on Sunday morning.

TITAN.—We publish upon the outside of to-day's issue a brilliant critical notice of "Titan" recently translated by our accomplished townsman, the Rev. Charles T. Brooks, from the German of Jean Paul Richter and published by Messrs Ticknor & Field, of Boston.

The most epicurean taste for choice typography and binding will be satisfied with these elegant volumes and the scholarly lovers of German literature, will enjoy and appreciate this best and only entire translation of Richter's glowing and beautiful Romance.

Mr. Brooks is thoroughly imbued with the spirit of German literature, and this is justly considered his most successful work. We are all proud of him as a scholar, and we honor and love him as a man. He is good enough, himself, to be "translated."

KILLED AND WOUNDED OF COMPANY I, 7th REGIMENT.—We are indebted to Mayor Cranston for the following corrected list of the killed, wounded and missing of Company I the 7th R. I. Regiment, at the recent battle of Fredericksburg. It was received from Capt. Carr this morning:

MISSING, AND SUPPOSED TO BE KILLED.

Jas. H. Gladding, Abel Willis, Geo. A. Spencer.

WOUNDED.

Seargents Sam'l. McIlray, slightly; C. H. V. Mayo, slightly; Ephraim Morse, slightly; Fuller Dingley, slightly.

Corporal Israel Arnold, slightly.

Privates, T. J. Adams, slightly; Alex. Barker, severely; Wm. Collins, slightly; David G. Jones, severely; John Potter severely; Caleb Mott, Jr., severely; Jas. H. Price, severely; Jas. Robinson, slightly; E. A. Radakin, slightly; Ezra Sherman, slightly; John Towle, slightly; H. Winsiman, slightly; Clark Whitford, slightly; John W. Geary, severely.

MAYOR CRANSTON wishes us to say that in a few days he will visit the City of Washington on business, and that if any persons having sick or wounded friends there, will give him the names of such soldiers, and of the hospitals in which they are, he will call upon them. This is a good opportunity to communicate with absent friends, and it will, no doubt, be agreeable and pleasing to the absent.

CARD WRITING.—The Lady Card Writer who, one year since, wrote so many beautiful cards in our community, is now again in Newport, at the Littlefield House. We recommend to all ladies in want of beautiful cards at an unusually low price, to give her a call.

THE DEAD.—Among the names of the dead in the Hospital at Washington, up to the 24th inst., we notice the names of Jacob Comrary, Co. G. 1st R. I. Artillery.

A NEW WINE.—In this age of bad whiskey and extended liquor, it is pleasant to know that there is one article of pure wine, in the market. We have reference to Speer's Sambuci Wine, which was on exhibition at the Fair, and a glass was given to each visitor who claimed it. One was proffered to me, and I touched it to my lips somewhat unwillingly, but was agreeably disappointed in finding it one of the most delicious nectars I had ever tasted. I doubt whether there is a vineyard in the Old or New World that can yield a wine at all comparable to this in richness and delicacy of flavor. Mr. Speer prepares it by a new process peculiar to himself, without the addition of spirits, and each bottle he sells is guaranteed to be four years old. It has found its way to London and Paris. Our druggists Caswell Mack & Co., have it for sale.—Boston Transcript.

War Record.

Alleged Inefficiency of Gen. Franklin.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Post states that there are those who still believe that Burnside was in the right, and would have won the battle of Fredericksburg but for Franklin's lack of vigor. A part of the evidence taken before tee Committee made out quite a case against Gen. Franklin, but under the circumstances it was thought advisable not to report it to the Senate. The Committee had no time to write a report, nor had they the disposition; and if one had been written, it would not have been unanimous on all the points.

Bold Attempt of the Rebels to Cross the Rappahannock.—A special dispatch to the New York Tribune from Gen. Burnside's army, dated 24th inst., says:—

A bold attempt was made last night by the rebels to cross the Rappahannock on rafts, 14 miles below Port Conway, and capture a squadron of the 8th Penn. cavalry, doing picket duty along the river. Major Keenan, who is now in command of the regiment, and is stationed at Port Conway, got wind of the movement through some trusty blacks, and was fully prepared to receive them, and would have taken the entire party had not some of his men fired their guns too quickly, and frightened them all back under cover of the woods.

The Emancipation Proclamation to be Issued. A special Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune says it is now certain that the President will stand firm by the policy announced in his Proclamation. He is already engaged in considering the terms of the Proclamation to be issued on New Year's Day. The President has also made up his mind to garrison the Southern forts with black soldiers, who will also be used to protect the navigation of the great rivers soon to be opened to commerce.

Gen. Burnside and the "Responsibility."—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post of yesterday says that Gen. Burnside said to a prominent member of Congress—although the statement is not made in the evidence taken by the Congressional Commission:

"Sir, I have done the best I knew how to do If I have erred, lay the blame upon me. I did not seek the position, but I was urged to take it. I am willing to take any other—to go back to my old corps to-morrow; and in so doing I feel conscious of endeavoring to do my duty."

Diptheria.—A gentleman who has administered the following remedy for diptheria, says that it has always proved effectual in affording speedy relief. Take a common tobacco-pipe, place a live coal within the bowl, drop a little tar upon the coal, and let the patient draw smoke into the mouth, and discharge it through the nostrils. The remedy is safe and simple, and should be tried whenever occasion may require. Many valuable lives may be saved, the informant confidently believes, by prompt treatment as above.

Rev. Henry Smith, the oldest minister in the M. E. Church, died in the Pilgrim's Rest near Baltimore, on the 8th inst. He was in the 94th year of his age, and 68th of his ministry.

Our Army Correspondence.

FROM THE FIRST R. I. CAVALRY.

Headquarters 1st R. I. Cavalry,
Camp on Potomac Creek, Dec. 19, 1862.

Dear News: Since my last letter the most exciting occurrences have happened as you are well informed, though our regiment has seen little change in the ordinary routine of duty. We were just getting fairly to work at establishing ourselves for the winter, when the army advanced on Fredericksburg, and we broke camp for a series of picket duty and marches, which took up the time during the fighting of the great battle, until last Wednesday, when we returned and commenced again on the winter quarters. Our horses are nearly "played out," and many of them dead, in consequence of continued marching and going without food.

To-day the great event is the presentation of a very handsome flag to the regiment by Col. Burgess, in the name of the ladies of Providence.

There is a rumor to the effect that we are to lose our Colonel, in consequence of his promotion.—The men would be very sorry to lose him, though proud of his well merited advancement and still likely to remain in his command. He has made this regiment what it is, and given it a name of which we can be proud anywhere. I hear the name of a Rhode Island officer mentioned as his successor, and one who is well worthy from experience and efficiency to take his place, but it would be ill-advised to mention his name till there is some certainty about the matter.

The fortunes of war called upon your correspondent to be present at the great battle, and though your readers have probably seen descriptions written by far abler pens than mine, some little account from me, as I was on the field all day, may not be uninteresting.

Saturday, the 13th of December, was a day that will long be remembered by all who were present at a spot where the most determined valor, aided by every advantage of convenient and abundant supplies, was unable to compete with steady courage and engineering skill. Through the whole day brigade after brigade only advanced to be cut to pieces and fall back when relieved by fresh troops. Fredericksburg lies on the right or south bank of the Rappahannock River, and is, or rather was, a pleasant old-fashioned town of eight thousand inhabitants. In the rear of the town, about a thousand yards from the river is a range of low rolling bluffs, upon which the Confederate army has erected very considerable earth-works; below the hills they had two or three lines of intrenchments, from behind which their infantry arose, and while sheltered themselves, poured in a most destructive fire upon our advancing troops. The hill on this side of the river rises immediately to a considerable height, and is crowned by our batteries cannonading the town and whole valley. The connection was by means of pontoon bridges,—across which the right and centre grand divisions passed directly at the town; and one some two or three miles below, over which the left grand division, commanded by Gen. Franklin, passed. The right grand division was commanded by Gen. Sumner; the centre by Gen. Hooker.

The troops commenced passing the river on Thursday evening, and were crossing all day Friday, while cannonading was going on; but the attack commenced fairly on Saturday, about two o'clock, and was continued till seven o'clock the same evening, and consisted in an advance of our whole line, in order to carry the enemy's works by storm—though we were successful at certain points in gaining the crest of the hill and taking some prisoners, when night closed in we had not gained one foot of ground, and had met with fearful loss. I am probably speaking inside of the real facts in saying that in killed and wounded our loss was not less than twelve thousand, while the Confederate loss was not one quarter that number.—Such a result was to be anticipated from the position of the combatants, whether or not we were successful in gaining our objects.

The town had been entirely deserted by the inhabitants at the first advance of our army, with a few exceptions, and was completely riddled—first by the shot and shell of our army on Friday, and then by the Confederate artillery on Saturday,—which last kept up a steady fire of grape, cannister and solid shot through the streets, and shell and shot at our bridges. Many buildings were entirely destroyed by fire, and, at the short range, the thickest walls were pierced, and the most substantial edifices of no more account than children's card-houses.

Through the whole day the smoke was so thick that nothing could be seen at a few rod's distance, and it was not till Sunday morning, which broke bright and clear, that I could gain anything like a general view of the place; but no pen can describe nor can the most eloquent tongue give a correct idea of the terrible heart-sickening scenes which were forced upon the sight and indelibly printed on the memory of the participators. About dark I rode along the front of our lines, while the fragmentary regiments were calling their rolls to find out who were left, and the ground was literally piled with dead, making it almost impossible to get through,—while the groans of the wounded can be likened to nothing but the place of eternal torment. In the town at every house, in every alley, lay a corpse, some of which were mutilated in the most shocking manner.

On Sunday, except cannonading and skirmishing, the fight was not renewed, but our men were busy in removing and taking care of the wounded. Nearly every whole house was converted into a hospital, and ambulances and stretchers were going in every direction. On Monday commenced the work of moving the wounded across the river, and on Monday night, while the infantry were throwing up breast-works to deceive the enemy, silently and swifty the whole army recrossed the river, and on Tuesday morning, shortly after daybreak, the bridges were taken up and the enemy's skirmishers entered the town, though, as it lays directly under our batteries, they will not probably occupy it in force. So quickly was this move made that none of the soldiers knew where they were going till marched on the bridge. Four of us were sleeping soundly in a house with our horses unsaddled, and woke to find ourselves the possessors of Fredericksburg, and just in time to pass over the bridges.

The inhabitants had taken all of their valuable articles which could be moved but still the town had the appearance of having been deserted in haste; fires were found in kitchens and offices and [illegible] evidently hurriedly [illegible] of course our soldiers [illegible] every place [illegible] and took everything they could find, destroying ten times the value of what they took; quite a large quantity of tobacco was found, though much had been thrown in the river and this was what the soldiers wanted the most as they had been long without it. Some things were found packed away in cellars but every place high and low was torn open and turned topsyturvy. I was in a lawyers office where all the papers connected with a long practice were pulled open scattered and torn, the library a valuable one, very much injured and every box that could possibly contain money emptied; so in an insurance office and one or two others where the safes were burst upon and papers destroyed: a book store seemed to have quite a large stock of valuable books; but a drug store which had not been guarded as most of them were by the Hospital Department presented the worst scene of smash.

In private houses many a piece of female finery was rudely dragged out and many a bunch of love letters which had not seen the light for many years were read and rudely commented on; the kitchens were set to work again and most indescribable dishes such as only a soldier can make and none but a very hungry soldier could eat were turned out; as a large quantity of flour and bacon were found all had enough to eat.

I have conversed with different officers and soldiers who have been in every battle of the war and all say this was the worst battle they ever witnessed, Cedar Mountain, Antietam nor anything in the seven days fight on the Peninsula was equal to it for wholesale slaughter; where the responsibility rests it is hard to say but this is certain, our armies are most miserably managed; and the lives of men are held most cheap at the North you would think since the late large bounties paid there would be more care taken and impossibilities not attempted to be accomplished by brute force and stupidity, one thing is evident from the whole course of the war, no Southern General would lead his army into battle against such fearful odds unless where pressed to the very last extreme of necessity.

What will be the next move it is impossible to guess; the army drew a long breath when once more in their camps on this side the river, and a man inwardly rejoiced in the possession of his head and the usual allowance of arms and legs but the innumerable hospitals and the many poor fellows limping round and dying day by day and the long rows of new made graves keep us in memory that we have been very near deaths door.

Gen. Sigel arrived here with his division on Monday and now lies on our right, he could have done us no good had he come before as we had as many men as we could use. I fell in with the 12 R. I. on the battle-field where I believe they did their duty, but do not know exactly their loss. The weather through the battle was quite warm but is now extremely cold. SCOUT.

NOTE.—The above correspondent acted as volunteer aid to Gen. Butterfield on the battlefield of Fredericksburg and therefore possessed excellent advantages to obtain the information which he gives. He was the only man from the Rhode Island Cavalry in this bloody battle.—[ED. NEWS.

A man who used to live in Ellsworth, Me., removed to Jacksonville, Fla. He there represented the captain of the vessel in which he sailed to that port to be an abolitionist, and the people there flogged the captain. The man was pressed into the rebel service when the war broke out, and has since been taken prisoner. He now avows himself heartily sick of rebeldom, and undoubtedly abolitionized.

The Post Office in New London was robbed on Saturday morning of the mail bags from Boston and New Haven, which were taken behind one of the churches, cut and rifled of their contents. The letters in the boxes were also taken.

Sixteen tow boats left Pittsburg last Thursday, with ninety-five barges, containing nine hundred and sixty-eight thousand bushels of coal; five hundred and thirty-eight thousand bushels being for the Cincinnati market.

The Navy Department offers a reward of $100, for Michael Reardon of New York, acting second assistant engineer, who deserted from the Monticello, and $50 for Jeremiah Reardon who deserted from the Delaware.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
(under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State St., opposite Kilby St.,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS,

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration of the Patent Office.

EDMOND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

FARINA CRACKERS—Mr. Wing is the only manufacturer of Farina Crackers in the United States.

Since Wing's Farina Crackers have become so popular, one or two individuals have named a very different and inferior article Farina Crackers, and have copied portions of Mr. Wing's advertisement in order to induce the belief that theirs were the same as Wing's.—This attempt at deception should be understood by all. Wing's Farina Crackers may be had of the best family grocers generally.

Special Notices.

WING'S FARINA CRACKERS.—There are persons of high respectability who make a variety of Crackers bearing different names, such as Boston, Congress, Soda, &c., which are excellent of their kinds, but as there are no other crackers manufactured in the United States, containing the peculiar qualities of Wing's, many of these persons purchase Wing's Crackers in order to supply their customers with the true Farina Crackers [illegible]

TO HORSE OWNERS.

Dr. Sweet's Infallible Liniment

FOR HORSES

Is unrivaled by any, and in all cases of Lameness, arising from Sprains, Bruises or Wrenching, its effect is magical and certain. Harness or Saddle Galls, Scratches, Mange, &c., it will also cure speedily. Spavin and Ringbone may be easily prevented and cured in their incipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the possibility of a radical cure. No case of the kind, however, is so desperate or hopeless but it may be alleviated by this Liniment, and its faithful application will always remove the Lameness, and enable the horse to travel with comparative ease.

Every horse owner should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effectually prevent those formidable diseases mentioned, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

JEFF DAVIS' PROCLAMATION.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.

Davis' Proclamation is dated Richmond, Dec. 23d. The authenticity is shown by the following extract from the Richmond Dispatch. The Proclamation against Butler and his associates comes up to the full measure of public expectation.

The deliberation with which the conclusions of the Executive have been arrived at gives additional solemnity and dignity to his purpose.

FROM THE NORTHWEST.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 26.

John Morgan, with a force of about 3,000 cavalry, entered Glasgow on Wednesday. Three companies of the 2d Michigan regiment, opposed his entrance, but fell back on Mumfordsville, having lost one captain and two privates. The rebels lost two captains, five privates and seven prisoners. The rebels were then reinforced and remained in possession of Glasgow. On Thursday Cols. Gray and Sheuks attacked the rebels at Beaswallow Hart County, the rebels having previously damaged the Railroad near Glasgow Junction. At the last accounts the federals had driven off the rebels killing one and taking 16 prisoners and sustaining no loss themselves. A train of ammunition cars which left here this morning was fired into near Nolan and had to return. No Nashville passenger train left here this morning. Telegraphic communication between here and Nashville was interrupted this afternoon.

Medicines.

"COPYRIGHT SECURED."

GREAT INDIAN REMEDY FOR FEMALES.

Dr. Mattison's Indian Emmenagogue.

This celebrated Female Medicine, possessing virtues unknown of anything else of the kind, and proving effectual after all others have failed, is designed for both married and single ladies, and is the very best thing known for the purpose, as it will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction, from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain.

OVER 2000 BOTTLES

have now been sold without a single failure, when taken as directed, and without the least injury to health in any case. ☞ It is put up in bottles of three different strengths, with full directions for using, and sent by express, closely sealed, to all parts of the country.

PRICES—Full strength, $10; half strength, $5; quarter strength, $3 per bottle.

☞ Remember! This medicine is designed expressly for OBSTINATE CASES, which all other remedies of the kind have failed to cure; also that it is warranted as represented IN EVERY RESPECT, or the price will be refunded.

☞ BEWARE OF IMITATIONS! None genuine and warranted unless purchased directly of Dr. M., or at his office. ☞ Accommodations for Ladies wishing to remain in the city a short time for treatment.

Dr. Mattison's Diuretic Compound,

For Acute and Chronic Gonorrhea.

This new remedy contains neither Balsam, Copaiva Spirits of Nitre, Cubebs, Turpentine, or any other nauseous drugs, but is an elegant vegetable liquid, pleasant to the taste and smell, grateful to the stomach, cooling, cleansing and healing in its operation and speedily allaying all heat and irritation in the urinary passage. You, therefore, who have been swallowing down Balsam Copaiva, either in capsules or mixtures, for months in succession, until with pale face and disordered stomach your breath and clothes are filled with its vile odor; throw away the disgusting mixtures, and send for a bottle of this New Remedy, which will not only cure you at once, but at the same time it will cleanse the system from the injurious effects of the various mixtures you have been taking so long.

☞ ONE BOTTLE, WHICH LASTS A WEEK, WILL OFTEN EFFECT A PERMANENT CURE.—Price $2,00.

Dr. Mattison's Anti-Syphilitic Syrup,

For Constitutional Syphilis.

No remedy ever discovered has done what has been achieved by this. Under its use every form of constitutional syphilitic taint is speedily cured, and in a few weeks the subtle poison is completely eradicated from the system, and health and strength are permanently restored.

☞ It was this remedy that cured, in a few weeks, a gentleman from the South, then stopping at Newport, and for which he presented Dr. M. with $150 besides his bill, after having been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians in Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York for FIVE YEARS.

One bottle, which lasts a month, will often effect a perfect cure. Price, $10; half size, $5.

Dr. Mattison's Nerve Invigorator,

For Nervous Debility, Loss of Power, Impotency, Confusion of Thought, Loss of Memory, Irritable Temper, Gloomy Apprehensions, Despondency and Melancholy, which may end in Loss of Reason.

This new remedy for that fearful train of mental and physical evils arising from venereal excesses, and secret habits of the young, is composed of the most soothing, strengthening and invigorating medicines to be found in the whole Vegetable Kingdom, which, in combination, form the most perfect antidote for this obstinate and distressing class of maladies ever yet discovered.—It has now been sent to nearly every State in the Union, relieving the untold sufferings of hundreds who have never seen the inventor, restoring them to comparative health, strength and happiness. Prices—Quart bottle, which lasts a month, $10; half size, $5.

☞ These four GREAT REMEDIES are the result of over twenty years' study and practice, and as now prepared they are known to be the very best for their respective purposes, and I am therefore induced to make them public for the mutual benefit of myself and the sick, who otherwise could never avail themselves of their benefits. They are all warranted as represented, in every respect, or the price will be refunded.

☞ Prepared and sold ONLY at DR. MATTISON'S REMEDIAL INSTITUTE FOR SPECIAL DISEASES, No. 28 Union street, Providence, R. I., and sent by express, secure from observation, to all parts of the United States.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

☞ It has been estimated that over Two Hundred Thousand Dollars are paid to swindling quacks annually in New England alone; and that, too, without any benefit to those who pay it. All this comes from trusting, without inquiry, to men who are alike destitute of honor, character or skill and whose only recommendation is their own false and extravagant assertions in praise of themselves. The only way to avoid imposition is to take no man's word, no matter what his pretensions are, but MAKE INQUIRY. It will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in nine cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are.

Dr. M. will send free, by enclosing one stamp as above, a Pamphlet on DISEASES OF WOMEN, and on Private Diseases generally; giving full information, with the most undoubted references and testimonials without which no advertising physician, or medicine of this kind is deserving of ANY CONFIDENCE WHATEVER.

☞ Orders by mail promptly attended to. Write your address plainly and direct to DR. MATTISON as above. d18-1y

DYSPEPSIA & FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR THESE DISTRESSING COMPLAINTS IS NOW MADE KNOWN IN A

"Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations."

Published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN.

The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, although he never was a believer in Clairvoyance, Spiritualism, Psychology, &c. This remarkable remedy has cured everybody who has tried it, never failing in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Those who are afflicted with Consumption, Bronchitis, or Asthma, may also be cured by the use of my Herbal Preparations, which are charged with electro-magnetic properties, and an aura or aromatic atmosphere is continually emanating from them, in consequence of the positive and negative repulsion of its atomical electro-magnetical principles, thereby rendering their efficacy truly wonderful in all cases of Lung Complaints. I will send this valuable prescription free to any person on receipt of their name.

A CHALLENGE AND A REWARD.

$500 REWARD.

I beg leave to inform my friends and the community, that from recent arrangements made by me, I NOW offer the above reward in good faith, which shall be paid in cash to any chemist or physician, of good and responsible standing in the State, who, on due analysis and satisfactory evidence, can find anything in the BRANDIES, WINES, GINS, &c., &c., NOW for sale by me as pure, other than is found in all PURE, GENUINE and UNADULTERATED ARTICLES.

Knowing, from experience, that our citizens in general labor under the impression, with good cause, that pure liquors cannot be had, I, after much pains, studious investigation, and from the reliable source with whom I NOW contract for my supplies in these articles, do stake my reputation as a man, my integrity as a merchant, that if the liquors NOW sold by me as pure "are not so," then none can be had from the vineyards in France, or from any part of the world. As a proof of my sincerity, I challenge chemical contradiction, and invite all to come and test for themselves, when they will learn that NOW, "if never before," pure liquors can be purchased in Newport, by bottle or measure, for medicinal or family purposes, and as cheap as in any other place in these United States.

WM. ALDERSON, Newport, R. I.

N. B.—The main inducement for all to give me a call is, that my figure for the genuine article is rather less, than more, than is NOW charged for the handsome labeled bottled compounds so extensively sold all over country. Mch 30 1y

CURE THAT COUGH OF YOURS.

Use the best, Surest, and cheapest Remedy the world has ever produced.

ONLY 13 & 25 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S

GREAT COUGH REMEDY.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S Curative Balsam is warranted if used according to the directions, to cure in all cases, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Coughs, Asthma, and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S BALSAM is prepared with all the requisite care and skill, from a combination of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom affords. Its remedial qualities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the blood, through the lungs. It is not a violent remedy, but emollient,—warming, searching and effective; can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S BALSAM has been used by the public for over 18 years, and has acquired its present sale simply by being recommended by those who have used it, to their afflicted friends and others.

MOST IMPORTANT.—MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S CURATIVE BALSAM is sold at a price which brings it in the reach of every one to keep it convenient for use. The timely use of a single bottle will prove to be worth 100 times its cost.

NOTICE.—SAVE YOUR MONEY!!!—Do not be persuaded to purchase articles at 4s. to $1, which do not contain the virtues of a 13 ct. Bottle of Madame Porter's Curative Balsam, the cost of manufacturing which is as great as that of almost any other medicine; and the very low price at which it is sold, makes the profit to the seller apparently small, and unprincipled dealers will sometimes recommend other medicines on which their profits are larger, unless the customers insist upon having Madame Porter's and none other. Ask for Madame Porter's Curative Balsam, price 13 cts., and in large bottles at 25 cts., and take no other. If you cannot get it at one store you can at another.

Sold by all Druggists and Store-keepers at 13 cts. and in larger bottles at 25 cts.
